

Instructions

Point to Point Transport Commission online short courses

Safety is the Commissioner's priority. Online short courses have been developed to help support service providers and other members of the industry understand their legal responsibilities and safety obligations.

Purpose

These interactive courses will help service providers understand their safety obligations and provide guidance in complying with the law. The courses can be used as an introduction for those who are new to the industry, or as a knowledge refresher for those who have more experience in the industry.

Structure

Each short course consists of a series of lessons, taking around 3-4 minutes to complete. The lessons are interactive and involve short explanatory videos, quizzes and additional information.

The course can be accessed through an App on your mobile device or a desktop/ laptop, follow the steps below to begin.
